COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

On Monday, April 5, the Board of Selectmen held a special meeting primarily for continuing consideration of appointments to citizen boards and committees.

At their March 22 meeting, the Board adopted a policy of appointing an individual to serve on only one board or committee at one time. This policy was clarified Monday night by having the policy pertain only to the Budget Committee, Recreation Board, Planning Board, Water District Trustees, and the School Directors (appointments for unexpired terms). The clarification was adopted in order that individuals on these permanent boards and committees could serve on special short term committees where their expertise would be valuable.

Individuals appointed to the Radio Study Committee were Richard Blake, Craig Davis, John Greenleaf, Arlan Jodrey, Ted Chadbourn, Robert Davis, and Bernie Rice. This committee is charged with preparing and submitting a report of the practicality and feasibility of a townwide radio communications system to the Board of Selectmen by Sept. 1, 1976.

The Board reappointed George Nickerson to fill one of the two seats on the Planning Board. Appointments to the Recreation Board and Budget Committee were tabled until the April 12, 1976 meeting in order that individuals who had indicated an interest in serving would have the opportunity to come before the Board to explain their interest.

In other business the Board voted to support the Maine Municipal Association in opposing the rate increase request of Central Maine Power Company. The Board voted to pay Attorney Daniel Lilly remaining legal fees of $435.00 for his representation of the Board in the Danny Long suit. The suits against the members of the Board and the Road Commissioner as individuals have been dismissed, however, the question of the legal status of the road still remains to be settled.

The Town Manager was authorized to secure legal assistance from the Maine Municipal Association to represent the town in opposing a suit brought against the Town by Harold Clukey. The suit is a result of his plane being destroyed in a fire at the airport in 1975.

On Monday, April 12, 1976, the Board will continue considerations of appointments to boards and committees and consider issues relating to solid waste disposal, septic waste disposal and the acceptance of a back-up ambulance.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MET APRIL 1

At the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society on April 1, John White, President of the Androscoggin Historical Society, spoke on the subject of heraldry which developed in the 13th century as an attempt to institutionalize the various of several families. Mr. White described the symbolism of several heralds, the importance of particular arrangements, and the wide range of subjects depicted. He indicated that many of the designs assumed by some Americans to be authentic are not at all and that the bar sinister did not necessarily suggest illegitimate parentage. Refreshments followed the meeting.

The monthly exhibit in the Bethel Savings Bank lobby suggests an Eastern of the Victorian era. Be certain not to miss it.

The Society is most interested in learning of artifacts or pictures relating to manufacturing concerns in Bethel throughout its history. If anyone can help please call 824-2908 or write: Bethel Historical Society, Box 12, Bethel Maine 04217.

S. A. D. 44 BOARD TO MEET MONDAY

A special meeting of the S. A. D. 44 board of directors is scheduled for the Teistar Library next Monday evening at 7:30.

Again included on the agenda is the much-deferred matter of determining the status of school principals in the district for the 1976-77 school year.

The board will be asked to determine whether they desire to post a vacancy in the custodial and transportation services at Andover.

The board will be asked if they desire to take any action with regard to the superintendent's partially read statement to the board on April 5 regarding school board ethics. Also the directors will be asked if they desire to take any action regarding the Code of Ethics for School Boards adopted on May 5, 1969. The superintendent's alleged "public subordination in refusing the request of the Board to provide the board members with a copy of his prepared statement regarding School Board Ethics and S. A. D. #44," is scheduled to be subject to possible board action.

DISTRICT #44 DIRECTORS MEET IN REGULAR SESSION

The Teistar Auditorium was the location on Monday evening of this week of a regular meeting of the S. A. D. 44 board of directors. William Gill, a citizen from Andover, expressed concern over the possibility that make-up days be scheduled during the April vacation.

The chair read a letter from Norman I. Greig, president of the Oxford Land Company, stating that the district had permission to use land just northerly of the Teistar facility for use as cross country and ski trails. A request was made that application be made yearly.

Board member Gerald Schachter of Andover expressed concern over certain activities on the part of some of the board's members which he thought might be unethical. With the permission of the chairman, Patricia Hudson, Basil E. Kinney, superintendent of schools, started to read a prepared statement containing what he believed to be actions by board members that were in contravention of the Code of Ethics adopted by the board on May 5, 1969. Before Mr. Kinney could complete his presentation, a point of order was raised by a board member, followed by a request for an executive session.

Following the closed session, the superintendent was instructed to duplicate copies of remarks he attempted to read in open session, to be given to board members for discussion on April 12.

Milton Mills of Woodstock questioned Mr. Kinney about the condition of a door to the Annex at Woodstock. He also expressed concern that no administrators were present when the Buildings and Grounds Committee inspected the site. Mr. Kinney said that without further study and inquiry he could not answer the questions concerning the door. He further stated that he was not aware of the date and time of the committee's inspection at Woodstock.

Mrs. Hudson reported that the Personnel Committee had inter-

SLIDES ON INDIA TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT (APRIL 8) AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Rev. and Mrs. Clifford Towle will share the experiences and slides of their work as missionaries in India for 35 years. Representing the United Church of Christ, Mr. Towle will give a first-hand account of how he blended his training as an agricultural engineer and ordained minister to participate in land and people development in Vadai, India.

Locke Mills Union Church is sponsoring a hosting supper to meet the Towles at 5 p. m. at the Locke Mills Union Church. The Towles will then be at the Bethel Congregational Church for the slide presentation at 7 p. m., followed by a dessert. The Christian Education Committee is sponsoring this opportunity.

CHILD HEALTH CONFERENCE AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH THURSDAY, APRIL 15

A Child Health Conference for the Bethel area pre-school children will be held Thursday, April 15, at the Congregational Church, between 9 a. m. and 12 noon.

Vision and hearing screening, physical examinations, including blood pressure, urinalysis, growth and development screening tests and immunizations are among the services offered.

Parents in the Bethel area may call or contact volunteers at the following numbers to set up an appointment for their pre-school children to be seen at the Child Health Conference: Micheline Roy, 824-2252; or Eleanor Jodrey, 824-2230.

Parents in the outlying areas: Andover, Woodstock, Gilcead, and Milton Plantation may call toll free, 1-800-482-0702, to set up an appointment.

Volunteers are Micheline Roy, Eleanor Jodrey, Betty Ann Hastings, Mary Lou Fiske, Maureen Swain, Gwen Stcher, Muriel Whitney, Sue Fiske, Nellie Frankiewicz, Kathy Sutton and Sue Bartlett.

U. M. O. SCHOLARSHIP TO BENEFIT ANDOVER STUDENTS

A freshman year tuition scholarship at the University of Maine at Orono in memory of the late John Bayley Fox, former dean of the Harvard Business School for over 30 years, will benefit students from Andover, Maine.

The scholarship was established by Mrs. Lisenard Pluster of Arlington, Mass., in memory of her late husband. Income from the scholarship fund will provide tuition for one year for a youth from Andover. North Oxford County students will have preference if a qualified student from Andover is unavailable.

The late Mr. Fox was interested in the village of Andover and the education of its youth. He maintained a summer home there and Andover was also the home of his paternal grandfather.

SNOW TWISTERS TO MEET AT CASCO BANK APRIL 13

BICENTENNIAL COMMITTEE PLANS OLD FASHIONED 4TH

Plans are now in the making for an Old Fashioned Fourth of July for the town of Bethel this year, in conjunction with the national observance of the nation's 200th birthday. The Bethel Bicentennial Committee will act as the coordinator for the week end of July 2, 3, and 4, and is anxious to receive suggestions and assistance from groups and individuals in town. The Committee hopes to design a week end full of activities in which persons of all ages can participate and is considering such things as Children's Walking Costume Parade, a Children's Field Day with all sorts of races and a super scavenger hunt. Adult competitions might include a "turkey shoot", fishing contests, cribbage and checkers play-offs, and a Super-Athlete Competition also along the lines of TV's Super Stars. Additional possibilities include a Bicentennial Church Service followed by lunch in Bicentennial garb. The stalwart Democratic and Republican softball 9's (18's or 24's) could be called upon to repeat their infamous Labor Day game. Anyone for contra or square dancing, a street dance, block parties, and a community picnic on the Common to the accompaniment of a jam session featuring assorted musical talents? How about a suitably historical play or pageant?

The Bicentennial Committee envisions a week end of activity which would become a memorable event in the minds of today's children, much as those old-time Fourth's are to older generations. All the above mentioned activities are possible, as are other suggestions, but only with help from many people. The Committee is especially interested in having groups or individuals take responsibility for the planning and running of individual events. Those interested are invited to attend the next meeting of the Bethel Bicentennial Committee which will be held on April 21 at 6:30 p. m. at the Moses Mason House. The Fourth of July is the foremost item of business to be taken up at the April 21 meeting. Any suggestion in the meantime may be given to Cathy Newell, 824-2089.

LITERACY VOLUNTEERS OF THE BETHEL VALLEY

Literacy Volunteers of the Bethel Valley What is it? It's people helping people. How? Teaching. You to teach others to read.

There are many people in Oxford County that are functionally illiterate. That means they can't read the news, job ads, medicine labels, recipes, sewing patterns or safety instructions. Literacy Volunteers of America is a national organization started in 1962 to train volunteers to teach adults to read. A program to form the Bethel Valley affiliate of this organization is underway. We have adults that want to learn to read. They need people to help them. An informational meeting will be held at the Bethel Savings Bank on Tuesday, April 13 at 7:00 p. m. If you are interested please attend.

There will be a surprise open house for the 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Tucker at the Town Hall in Andover. The Town Hall will be open at 2:00 p. m. on April 11, 1976. Everyone welcome.

John Kimball, shown attached to a back board, seems to be enjoying his role as victim in a first-aid course offered in his 8th grade science class at Telstar. Arlene Greenleaf, on the right, has been conducting the program. In this session, she is assisted by Mary Myers, another member of the Bethel Ambulance Service. Students have learned first aid care for a variety of injuries and physical problems. In addition the equipment carried in the ambulance has been demonstrated, such as the backboard shown in the photo. Many thanks to Mrs. Greenleaf for her time and effort to help the class meet and handle a variety of emergencies.

Iva Fox took Marion Kendall and Pauline Smith shopping at Norway Saturday.

Callers Sunday at Hazel Allen's were Ruth Fox, Clyde Allen and Roswell Allen.

Flora Allen visited at Hazel Allen's Thursday.

Carolyn Knight and friend, Rose Young, took dinner Friday with her folks, the Leroy Smiths. We also took in the rummage sale at the church vestry, which was fun, and quite a profit was made for the Foster Children's program.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fox and Stan had dinner with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Allen, in honor of Neal's birthday.

Mary Fox was a caller at Muriel Lovejoy's home Monday.

Those who visited with Marion Kendall and the Leroy Smiths the past three days were Rose Mary and Ken Smith, Peter Fox, Cindy Fox and daughter, also Esther Harriman, Florence Tibbets of Fryeburg, Helen Grover and cousin, Vesta Nelson, of Stoneham.

The Leroy Smiths had a nice visit with Elvira Littlehale and sister in Bryant Pond Sunday. Old friends are worth much.

Walter Cook has returned home from Massachusetts.

FRANKLIN GRANGE MET
MONDAY, APRIL 5

Franklin Grange met April 5 for their Bi-centennial meeting with 17 members and 5 visitors from Bear River present.

The following program was carried out by the Lecturer, Olive P. Davis. A flag was presented by Verna Swan on the stage with Edith Hathaway and Ruby Emery banking it on each side. A song "There are many flags" was sung by all. Verna read the names that "Old Glory" was called. Ruby read the History of the Flag. Edith urged us to be alert and Ethel MacKenzie read "I believe in America." The Grange saluted the flag and sang "Old Glory, I Love It."

2. Antique roll call
3. American Forum "Land of plenty" given by Lettie Brooks with discussion followed.

4. Music was furnished by Charlotte Cole on the guitar, Richard Felt, harmonica and Carl Brooks on his bones.

5. A skit "Boston Tea Party" written by Olive P. Davis was played by Harris Hathaway, Roydon Billings, Richard Felt, Barrie Marten, Carl Brooks, with Preston Cobb as stage manager.

6. George Washington's prayer was given by the Chaplain, Evelyn Bean.

7. Closing. All members sang "God Bless America."

At the close of the meeting just before refreshments were served, Bessie the cow, was led onto the stage by Farmer Richard Felt to be milked. During this process poems and prose on milk were read by the members. (This is a contest to be judged and prizes passed out at the meeting on the 19th.) "Old MacDonald" had a cow composed by Lettie Brooks was sung by all and milk was passed out to some members on the stage by Farmer Felt. Refreshments were served right after the cow ceremony.

Coming Events: April 19, three point meeting with West Paris and Turner Granges. May 3, Ladies Night, Lettie Brooks, Master and speaker Paul Billings on "Halfway house and safety." May 17, Gentlemen's Night, Harris Hathaway, Lecturer. May 20, The second 3 point meeting will be held with West Paris with Franklin Grange filling the chairs.

On April 6, 1976, the Barretts have been gangsters at Gangster's Gulch for 30 years, a long time. Have seen lots of snow, rains, a new bridge, and many changes over the years.

A lot of water has gone under the bridge during the past week. The water was over the road in several places and many cars had a lot of water.

Monday evening the West Paris fire department was in our little hamlet for a fire between the floors at John O'Hearon's house. If it had been in the dead of night it could have been disastrous as one girl's bed was directly over the fire (old wiring). It was 8:30 p. m. when the fire department arrived. Sometimes I wonder if we should go to bed or sit up and read.

Mrs. Madelyn Herriek, a former resident, has returned to her home at Norway after spending the winter with her sons, Robert and James, in California.

Eveline Barrett called on the new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Hyams, Sunday afternoon and showed them a photo of the Avenue before the new bridge was constructed.

Bethel Head Start

Well, we've finally made our big move. Although not 100% complete, our new home is done enough for us to hold our sessions. For now, we share the facilities with a day-care program which will continue through the summer. In all, there are 28 children benefiting from the facilities, 17 Head Start youngsters and 11 day care children.

Although the building is being renovated by a one-shot grant for Head Start it will be available for other programs, such as day-care, and other community functions. As we've done in the past, we are still leaving our door open for your visit. Please do, we are very anxious for the community to see our new home for Head Start.

Settled in, we find there are a few things we could use if anyone has extra's or articles they no longer need. We need pitchers, mixing bowls, refrigerator bowls, large serving trays, a kitchen clock, area rugs, cloth remnants, child-size tables and chairs, an adult kitchen table and chairs. During your spring cleaning, before you throw away, call Judy 824-2583, Sandy 120-21, or Louise 824-2284.

We would like to express our sincere thanks to the American Legion, Commander Carolyn phy; asst chairman, Bob Dapalito; sec., Larry Wade; and asst sec., Andy Aron. Work was done on the present code and much discussion about beach area, activities for children, ball field and other town improvement projects.

The flu bug continues to bounce from victim to victim. Some have been hit for the 2nd or 3rd time. I spent several days in bed last week, wondering if it was just the flu or whether someone had tossed me over Niagara Falls in a barrel.

The Weight Watchers and guests enjoyed an evening out at Madison Motel in Rumford.

Albert Blais purchased a pickup truck.

The two blooms on the amaryllis are 7 1/2" across.

Eleanor LeComte returned from Massachusetts after attending some nuptial celebrations of friends.

Brooks, Auxiliary President Jeri Brooks, Bob Lowe, Ray Tripp and a special thanks to Laura Inman who was always there with a helping hand.

Head Start Menu Week of April 5

A CHRONOLOGY OF LOCAL RAILWAY HISTORY

by John R. Davis

(Presented to the Bethel Historical Society Meeting, March 4, 1976).

Part II

Work soon, however, was reduced to a slow pace in the coastal lowlands as closer examination of the survey made by James Hall revealed the Dixville Notch grades would exceed 125 feet per mile, far steeper than practical.
A new surveyor the younger C. E.
Barrett, engaged to find an alternate route from Woodstock to Coaticook, placed the line up the Androscoggin River valley into New Hampshire and along the Upper Ammonoosuc River. With a charter secured from that state on June 30, 1847, work proceeded full pace through Paris Cape towards Bethel.

In 1848, Greenwood City residents relocated to build the village of Locke's Mills as grading crews went to work between North Paris and Bethel, and from West Bethel to Shelburne, the valley echoing to the hammering of steel drills into solid ledge. On October 27 of that year, Vermont granted its charter for the line to pass through Brighton Township
by way of the Nulhegan Woods.

Poor began involving himself with the promotion of other lines in Eastern Maine and the Maritimes in 1849, still attempting to put a railway through Andover, and Galt, having made several journeys to England raising additional money that the directors quickly squandered in contractor disputes on the Canadian section, finally took over management of that end. He immediately cancelled the contract with Wood and Black, hired Casimir Gzowski as chief engineer and with the company's own organization continued construction towards Richmond at a faster pace.

Bethel reigned as a terminal until October 5, 1851. That day a special train arrived from Portland, fueled with wood and water, and proceeded westward for Gorham. At 10:45 the next morning train number 3 arrived from the west instead of originating here.

In the fall of 1852 the Maine legislature denied Poor a charter to build a Bethel to Vanceboro line from already subscribed London capital, without which both companies would soon run out of money, the Portland section with barely enough to reach Island Pond, sixteen miles short of the border, and neither section capable of ballasting the tracks properly for sound mechanical operation.

At a meeting held on November 10th, 1852, in Portland between the directors and financial backers of the two companies to save the enterprise and attended by leaders of the equally troubled Toronto-Guelph and Quebec City railways, Poor proposed that with the Montreal section qualifying in length and private money construction criteria under a recent Canadian statute for issuance of government guaranteed bonds, the only salvation lies in leasing the line to a single new company, headquartered in Canada, which would receive a bond issue to build the remaining sixteen miles, properly ballast both sections, and complete the Toronto and Quebec City lines.

Much adverse to relinquish control of their section, but faced with losing their invested fortunes
otherwise the Portland interests, many of whom had lobbied the legislators to defeat the Bethel-Vanceboro charter, reluctantly accepted Poor's proposal and agreed with drafting a charter for merging all the lines into a Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada.

On April 4th, 1853, regular service commenced between Portland and Island Pond. Formal organization of the Grand Trunk Railway was announced July 11th, and one week later, July 18th, after a ceremonial last spike at the west end of Island Pond yard, the first through trains between Montreal and Portland passed over the line. On August 5th, all properties and accounts were turned over to the Grand Trunk of Canada for 550 years.

This community was commemorated in March 1854 as the first western terminal of the old Atlantic and St. Lawrence which now had become GTR's First District.
The 50th locomotive constructed by the Portland works, Grand Trunk number 129, bore a bronze nameplate "Bethel". Later that year the company completed the Richmond to Quebec City line, and of the nine trains arriving and departing the foot of Main Street in 1856, two were the daily Portland-Toronto expresses.

In the next few years the railway lived up to the name it had adopted from the great Middle East to India caravan route of pre-Roman Empire days, reaching Sarna, opposite Port Huron, in 1859; constructing a giant 20 ton locomotive in company shops and opening the Victoria Bridge at Montreal the same year, pusing the Quebec City line eastward Riviere DuLoupe. At Bethel 1865, a splendid depot was erected on Railroad Street.

With the 1870's came 40 ton
gines, fuel conversion from wood to coal burning in May 1873, lines west of Montreal channel from broad to standard gauge ing, October and November fail. Eastern lines converted April, 1874. R. K. Dunham, Bethel stationmaster, 1851 - 1874, wrote in his memoirs, "The line, from Portland to Montreal was divided into sections.
The share was four and a half miles each, and the men slept by their tools at daybreak, the 26th, every was at his post. Ours was the to report in and by 9 a. m. of same day the whole line was a dard gauge.

Through the 1880's service continually upgraded with the best equipment and more powerful and sixty ton locomotives.
Expansion came in taking control of other independent lines, as the Great Western in 1883, the Chicago and Grand Trunk line in 1889 that enabled inroad of the "Pacific" and "Atlantic" Expresses without changing cars between Portland and Chigo in a mere sixty-six hours.

In 1896 the ten most powerful locomotives on the system roared through Bethel with sixty and seventy car trains, the win double compounds. Eighty-ton machines with eight driving wheels and four cylinders of different sizes. With their increase in distance capabilities came moment of the large Gorham shops to Island Pond in 18
and Bethel became a terminal
the local way freight outbound to Portland and Island Pond morning and their counterparts bound at nightfall. By 1906 compounds were gone, replaced by the new one hundred ton class, two of which, in our southern, were familiar sights cars on the local way freight numbers 2675 and 2612.

S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS MEET

viewed candidates for the superintendency on Saturday, April 3, and that interviews would continue on Saturday, April 10. The board, acting as a committee of the whole, will interview four candidates on Saturday, April 17.

The board tabled any action on the 1976-77 status of the secondary principals until such time as the board shall employ an attorney to instruct and assist the board in the dismissal of a principal.

It was the decision of the directors that the girls' ski team be given expenses of $500 equal to the amount allocated to the boys' ski team. Both teams are to pay the district back any additional funds spent on their trips; the girls to Madawaska; the boys to Vermont. In the event the money is not paid back by June 30, the money will be deducted from any allocation for fiscal year 1977.

The board accepted the Lester C. Bickford Memorial Scholarship Fund, the income of which is to be used for the purpose of providing a scholarship to worthy student, or former student of M. S. A. D. #44 in accordance with appropriate guidelines. Mrs. Hudson was requested to express the thanks of the District to Mrs. Bickford.

The board accepted, with thanks for past services, the statement of Pauline Applin that she does not desire to be considered for Cheerleader Advisor for the 1976-77 year.

Student days lost in excess of allowed storm days will be made up on days originally scheduled for Teacher Workshops. The schedule is contingent upon Jan. 27-28, days lost at the Telstar and R. C. Foster Schools because of heating difficulties at the high school, being waived by the Department of Educational and Cultural Services.

The board confirmed the employment of Loretta Merrill as a bus driver to replace Byron Lapham.

The negotiated salaries of Hilda Brown, food services director; Sheila Hebert, secretary to the superintendent; and Patricia Doon, district bookkeeper, for the current year and fiscal year 1977, were confirmed. The board voted to receive the report of the Curriculum Committee containing the recommendation that the status quo be maintained in regard to elementary principalships and to continue to study the issue.

The buildings and grounds committee was delegated the mandate to reduce the number of phones and accessibility of same within the District with a view to reducing the phone bill to a level consistent with good education.

The board allocated $4,970.00 for Library Books and Audio Visual material to be properly and equitably divided among the several schools on or before June 30, 1975. This action will make S. A. D. 44 eligible for Title II and IV funds.

The board tabled any action on the Student Activities portion of the FY 1977 budget until such time as a total breakdown per sport involving every conceivable expense with an accounting of gate receipts is made available to the board.

All board members were present Monday evening except Annie Rosenberg of Woodstock.

HATHAWAY'S FIELD MAN

IN HARRISON, TUES, APRIL 13

On Tuesday, April 13, Senator William D. Hathaway's Field Representative, Ernest J. Provencher, will hold office hours in Harrison from 11:00 a. m. to 12 noon at the Town Office.

Citizens of the area with problems relating to the Federal government or who would like to relay a matter of interest and concern to Senator Hathaway are invited to meet with Mr. Provencher at this time. Anyone unable to do so may reach him at Sen. Hathaway's Lewiston office, 40 Pine Street, 783-2049.

LA LECHE LEAGUE TO MEET

IN NORWAY APRIL 13

"The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties", the second in a continuing series of four discussion meetings sponsored by the area group of LaLeche League, will be held on Tuesday, April 13, 7 p. m., at the home of Abigail Duarte, 9 Fair Street, Norway. The sign in front of the house says Daniel Studio. Please enter through the rear door. Abigail's telephone number is 743-8371.

All nursing mothers and their babies as well as expectant mothers who are considering nursing their babies are invited to attend a series of informal meetings so they may learn more about breastfeeding and meet other women who are breastfeeding their babies. For further information, call the group leader, Cindy Cushman at 743-5617.

BETHEL WOMAN HEADS

SEMINAR

Karen L. Brown, Bethel, co-chairman of Congressman William S. Cohen's Military Academy Screening Committee, led one of three seminars to be held in the Second District, Saturday at the Congressman's Lewiston office. Also in attendance at the meeting were Mrs. Nancy Tucker, Farmington, and Steve Roy, Waterville, members of the Screening Committee. High School guidance directors and members of Junior classes from area High Schools were invited to attend. Information was provided on the four military academies to which appointments are made, U. S. Air Force Academy, the U. S. Marine Academy, the U. S. Military Academy and the U. S. Naval Academy. Information was given on the U. S. Coast Guard Academy, although there are no Congressional nominations to this academy. The applicant must apply directly to the Academy. Briefings followed on procedures for applying as well as applicant requirements.

The seminars are being held to acquaint young men and women with the various unique advantages offered by the service academies for an exciting and demanding career.

Magalloway & WILSON'S MILLS

Mrs. Bertha West, Corres. —

At a recent meeting of Aziscoos Grange No. 402, Donna Glover, RN, lectured on Nutrition, the dangers of the "Fad" Diet Craze was emphasized. Also the importance of the small farm and garden to the American family was discussed. Grange members were urged to share their gardening and farming knowledge with others.

Thus more people will learn to appreciate the value of home grown produce and dairy products.

Friday, April 3, the Grange CWA helped the students of Wilson's Mills School prepare and serve an old fashioned dinner. The students churned butter and made corn bread from freshly ground corn. Also served was apple juice, home baked beans, home made pickles, donuts, jelly and maple syrup. Everyone had such a good time that there is a possibility of having an "International" dinner.

Mrs. Labbe of Berlin spent the week end with her daughter and family, the Donald Glovers, and they took her back to Berlin Sunday afternoon.

Danny Sweatt is working at the Balsams.

At last reports Addie Lancaster was out of the hospital and at her daughter Ruth Noyes' home in New York and gaining. We are all hoping to see them around here this spring.

Bertha West was in Errol Wednesday and had supper with the Carl Littlehales at Errol Dam.

They are giving Leslie Hawkins a retirement party Saturday evening April 10 at the Errol Town Hall. He has worked on the state road for a number of years.

We have some bare spots in the fields but there is still plenty of snow.

It was much cooler Sunday and it was spitting snow a little.

HUNT'S CORNER AND VICINITY

Harlan Bumpus, Correspondent —

Greetings from Albany once again! The last fragments of winter are now flowing away in the streams and the winds are drying up the land. It's time now to think about the garden and all the endless tasks needed to help turn spring's ugliness into summer's beauty.

The Albany Improvement Association will have a meeting at the Albany Town Hall on Sunday, April 11th, at 2 p. m. All Albany residents are welcome to attend.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Inman attended a wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. Bill "Doody" Haines in Waterford.

Monday Mrs. Margaret Barton and Esther Rugg, went to Portland.

Frank Barton's prize hound gave birth to 10 adorable pups last week.

Callers at the Hugh Stearns on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Waterhouse, Cora and Kenny Bumpus.

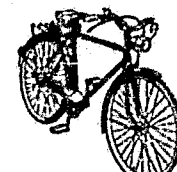

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McAllister were Sunday dinner guests of their daughter, Alberta White and family. Callers at the McAllisters on Sunday were Albert's nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter De-coster.

Callers at the Dick Bennetts this week have been Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stearns, Sarah Andrews, Gene Malett, Mr. and Mrs. Winfield McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Gus McAllister, Mrs. Wayne Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Parent, and Miss Christine Twitchell. On Friday evening, Kathy, Dick and the boys visited Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Miller in Sweden. Saturday evening the Bennetts visited their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Roydon Billings in Bryant Pond. Sunday was a beautiful day so the Bennett family went to Gorham, Maine, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Craig Mason and family. That's all that's blown my way this week. Keep smiling!

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

It is dark tonight, and over the pond the sky rolls up the stars. Outside the tracks down the hill side to the cabin have been turned into fast running brooks carrying off the melting snow from the hills.

Many changes have taken place this week.

Looking from my bedroom window one night I saw vertical streamers. Then I realized the northern lights were putting on a show. Lifting into the sky in shafts, lifting toward the center of the firmament was the aurora. Silver-white and glowing colors curved across the sky; some going high, some dropping low. They wavered and shimmered; lovely to watch.

One chill, blistering windy day Phoebe, the little feathered wanderer came from his winter sojourn in more southern lands to our home and his, here in the north. Its familiar note was heard near the pond. It is a very early riser, greeting the first signs of the coming day. As it sits on a bough, even at a distance I know it, as its tail seems to be very loosely hung and bobs up and down or sweeps sideways very frequently.

Several other birds are with us again: robin, fox sparrow, song sparrow, white throat, grackle, junco, red wing and a woodcock.

My chipmunk of last season has come from that "enormous nothingness" where he has been during the winter. How do I know he is the same one? I saw him emerge from his hole where he carried seeds all last summer and I called, "Chippy, Chippy!" He ran down the driveway to the steps where I sat and came into my lap for sunflower seeds. I went to the entrance of his home and found

One chill, blustering windy day Phoebe, the little feathered wanderer came from its winter sojourn in more southern lands to our home and his, here in the north. Its familiar note was heard near the pond. It is a very early riser, greeting the first signs of the coming day. As it sits on a bough, even at a distance I know it, as its tail seems to be very loosely hung and bobs up and down or sweeps sidewise very frequently. Several other birds are with us again: robin, fox sparrow, song sparrow, white throat, grackle, junco, red wing and a woodcock.

My chipmunk of last season has come from that "enormous nothingness" where he has been during the winter. How do I know he is the same one? I saw him emerge from his hole where he carried seeds all last summer and I called, "Chippy, Chippy!" He ran down the driveway to the steps where I sat and came into my lap for sunflower seeds. I went to the entrance of his home and found where he had cleaned house. There were quarts of seed shells mixed with dirt right outside his hole. He carried in all last summer and now out in the spring.

As usual, I have walked and I hear the rills grow into brooks and brooks grow into creeks then tumble over, making wild music. The great patches of snow grow smaller on the hills. On the pond the ice floes have shrunk under the longer day and the long glance of the sun. Some times it appears milk-onyx white; late afternoon it goes steely or takes on a grayness of mushy snow but it is vanishing.

Traveling along the road I could hear the falls roaring across the pond beyond the screen of woods; the sound mingling with the wind. There was something else, too; what was it? In a moment I had the answer. It was the smell of the fresh water, the pond smell, touching a chord of memory. The world seemed young again; refreshed by a long sleep; it had tossed its head and thrown off sluggishness. I think it was awakened by last night's rain. I hope it feels that it can now get along without its white blanket although the chill is still there.

Two ducks, now, swim in the channel out front or waddle on the ice.

One morning before six o'clock we watched a fox, trot beyond open water on the ice. He was on his way home from his night's hunt.

That same morning Red-wing preened to me as I stepped outside and Robin hunted worms on the lawn.

So in a few days, the landscape turned one of the great corners of the year. It is now a different world, a world out of chains. There is a whole new pattern of light and wonder.

"Awake to the glories of spring."

Awake to the song of the bird! Across the once sleeping earth. The stirrings of life are heard. As this time of spring awakens New life in a dormant land, I, too, would be awakened anew As Spring takes me by the hand.

Lucy Bragg and little Tommy were over from West Peru one day this week to see her mother and sister and stopped by to see me.

David Holt returned to U. M. O. on Sunday.

The members of Club Eight met Friday afternoon at Katie Tammien's. She met us at the door dressed in a beautiful Bicentennial gown which she had made. It added a festive note to our gathering. We were sorry Etta Morris was unable to attend.

Ann Holt, Bethel, visited her parents on Sunday.

A couple of people have been trying their kayaks on the waters of the river between Morgan Brook Bridge and Britton Bridge this week.

The Pulsifers were at their cottage for the week end.

Doris Hayes was in Portland on Tuesday, where she met her sisters, Verna Libby and Lenora Waterhouse for lunch.

Roland, Doris, and Elmer Hayes visited Mr. and Mrs. Estes Yates and Russell at Sunday River on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hayes and family, West Paris, were at the Hayes Homestead on Saturday.

CARD OF THANKS
Many thanks to those who visited, sent cards, flowers and gifts while I was a patient at the Community Hospital. Special thanks to Ginny Stone and to the East Andover Community Club for the delicious food brought in after I returned home.

On the Job With Emily

Week of March 29-April 3

The pace in the Maine Legislature is hectic, requiring careful orchestration of leadership to see that each day's calendar is dealt with as expeditiously as possible, with few items being postponed. The sessions are long, and despite the controversial nature of many of the bills, Rep. Saunders feels that members of the House are using discretion in limiting debate. The Special Session may finish up by the week end of April 9, and both political parties recently held receptions for their respective leaders, and the women legislators met for dinner.

Lengthy and emotional debate did take place on a proposed revision of the Maine Criminal Code, implementation of which has been postponed until May 1, 1976. The sections under discussion concerned an individual's right to use "deadly force"—action that kills or inflicts serious bodily injury—in defending his home against an intruder bent on crime. Maine law since the 19th century provided the basis for the provisions in the revised Criminal Code which allow an individual to pursue such a course only if someone in the household is threatened with death or bodily harm. The Code was criticized for not allowing similar action where an individual's property was threatened. Some residents apparently felt that defending one's home included the right to "shoot first and ask questions later". The House, including Rep. Saunders, voted to accept the Judiciary Committee's Majority Report which recommended that deadly force be used in cases of threat of death or bodily harm, after a warning is issued to the intruder.

The House passed a resolution criticizing the Defense Department's decision to award a machine gun contract to a Belgian firm rather than to Saco's Maremont Corporation, and sent the resolution to Maine's Congressional delegation, to be forwarded to the President and the Dept. of Defense.

Maine's Fish and Game laws came up for review in the House. Stiffer penalties for the negligent shooting of domestic animals were approved and a pheasant stamp for pheasant hunters age 16 and over was established. Revenues from the pheasant stamp will go to defray the cost of the state pheasant raising program. Some amendments to the bill including the reduction of the snowmobile registration fee by $1.50, and the return of a portion of the snowmobile registration fee to the owner's county if he is from an unorganized territory. Under present law the refund goes to the owner's municipality, with the refunds for unorganized territory residents going to the state.

The powers of the now abolished Executive Council are being assigned by legislative action. The bill which would give the Governor the job of naming all top appointees for confirmation by the legislative committee concerned with the particular appointee's department and final confirmation by the Senate, was given initial approval. This will go into effect in 1977. An amendment which would allow appointees to serve only as long as the governor appointing them was in office failed to pass.

The bill which would have created a Division of Travel Information through an increase in rooms and meals tax, although passed March 24 in the House, was killed in the Senate.

Members of the Legislature received an appeal from the Governor in February to assist in the recruitment of candidates for elected office. Apparently he didn't need much help, since as of April 3, there were 56 independent registered to run for the Legislature, including the Governor's sister.

Many retired teachers have been in contact with Emily regarding the replacement of the $1 million into their retirement fund. Rep. Louis Jalbert of the Appropriations Committee has informed Emily that the $1 million has been found from cuts in such accounts as Maine Maritime Academy, municipal audit, the unorganized school fund, permanent school fund, and other sources. These savings amount to $1,398,697, leaving some monies for other cut programs.

At the request of the town of Upton, Emily will be introducing an amendment to election law which would allow small towns to make full use of Australian ballot in municipal elections.

During the "off-season" after adjournment, Emily hopes to provide constituents with background information on issues which will be facing Maine in the near future. Two topics which come to mind are the "Bottle Bill", up for referendum in November, and the issue of Tax Reform, which will face the next session of the Legislature. Any other ideas? Rep. Saunders may be contacted in Augusta, 289-2866, Bethel, 824-2264.

W.W. I BARRACKS & AUXILIARY

The World War I Barracks and Auxiliary #2943 met at the Legion Hall on Vernon Street for their April 6 Spring meeting.

It was preceded by a "pot luck" noon meal. Twenty one members including the Barracks were seated at the table. Selma Chapman, chaplain, gave the blessing.

The Auxiliary's meeting opened in form with President Maude Danforth presiding. Seventeen members were in attendance, three officers were absent by the roll call. Rose Taylor served as conductress.

The charter was draped and a donation was sent to Rev. Oral Roberts in memory of Eva Johnston.

Selma Chapman gave her report of the ill. It was reported that Leona Curtis is at the Rumford Hospital. A card was signed by all members present.

Frances Bennett reported that the banner was completed and was presented to the auxiliary.

Election of officers for 1976-77 was held as follows: President, Leona Curtis; Sr. Vice, Mary Bishop; Jr. Vice, Mabel Robertson; Treasurer, Selma Chapman; Chaplain, Agnes Chase, Guard, Thelma Conant; Conductress, Cora Bennett. Lola Forbes was elected as a trustee for three years.

Delegates to convention in June: Leona Curtis, Frances Bennett; alternates, Mary Bishop and Cora Bennett. Maude Danforth will be a delegate-at-large.

A silent auction will be on the agenda for the May meeting. Committee for May is: Hilda Donahue, Frances Bennett and Maude Danforth.

A 37th wedding anniversary party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kittredge at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Harlan and Kathy Bean, Sunday from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Kittredge were married on April 1, 1939, at the Congregational Manse by Rev. Herbert T. Wallace, Bethel. They have four children, three of whom are living; seven grandchildren; and four step-grandchildren.

Guests were from Bethel, West Bethel, Norway, Harrison, Watford, Oxford, Brunswick, Laconia, N. H., and Shrewsbury, Mass.

The couple was presented gifts of a money tree and a set of dishes from their children, a corsage and boutonniere, with a decorated anniversary cake. Refreshments were served.

STUDDIED TIRES PROHIBITED AFTER MAY 1 IN MAINE

The Maine State Police advises motorists that Maine law prohibits the use of studded tires on Maine roads after May 1.

"Section 1375 of the motor vehicle law says that tires having metal studs, wire or spikes protruding from the tread cannot be used on any public highway after the first day of May to the first day of October," said Colonel Donald E. Nichols, Chief of the Maine State Police.

However, said Col. Nichols, the Department of Transportation (DOT) may extend the lawful use of studded tires, with such notice originating from DOT officials.

The Maine State Police Chief said the law does not prohibit the use of tire chains when required for safety because of snow, ice, or other conditions tending to cause a vehicle to slide or skid.
